"When I first applied to study in Australia, I was concerned about the study methodology. I met with Daljit Rao the MD of Visionplanet in Colombo. The time spent by VPA in explaining the lifestyle, the academic expectations and rigour in Australia, helped me tremendously to prepare and integrate when studying in Adelaide. Throughout my education journey, I sought advice on how to adapt to the Australian social and educational culture and this advice by VPA on an ongoing basis extended me beyond my academic boundaries as I was able to adjust well when on industry placement. The guidance throughout my education journey was of paramount importance as it has helped me to become who I am today in management position in one of the top five star hotels.
